Item 8.01 Other Events

On April 19, 2016, Jack Henry & Associates, Inc. (the "Company") announced that it has entered into a definitive agreement to sell its Alogent division ("Alogent") to Antelope Acquisition Co., an affiliate of Battery Ventures. Alogent provides branch deposit automation and remote deposition solutions to large financial institutions. Pursuant to the terms of the definitive agreement, Antelope Acquisition Co. purchased all of the outstanding stock of Goldleaf Enterprise Payments, Inc., a wholly-owned subsidiary of Goldleaf Financial Solutions, Inc. and an indirect wholly-owned subsidiary of the Company. The definitive agreement contains representations and warranties and indemnification obligations customary for transactions similar to the sale, and is subject to closing conditions. The closing of the transaction is expected to occur by May 31, 2016. Financial terms were not disclosed.

Statements made in this Form 8-K that are not historical facts are forward-looking information. Actual results may differ materially from those projected in any forward-looking information. Specifically, there are a number of important factors that could cause actual results to differ materially from those anticipated by any forward-looking information. Additional information on these and other factors, which could affect the Company's financial results, are included in its Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) filings on Form 10-K, and potential investors should review these statements. Finally, there may be other factors not mentioned above or included in the Company's SEC filings that may cause actual results to differ materially from any forward-looking information.
